ND Highway 1806 temporarily closed to southbound traffic six miles south of Mandan – Alternate routes available Only local traffic and emergency response vehicles allowed on Hwy 1806

The North Dakota Department of Transportation (NDDOT) and North Dakota Highway Patrol (NDHP) will today be temporarily closing ND Highway 1806 to southbound traffic six miles south of Mandan at the intersection of Morton County Road 138A.

Only local traffic and emergency response vehicles will be allowed to travel on ND Highway 1806 south of closure. Alternate routes are available for through traffic. The closure is taking place for the safety of the traveling public due to highway traffic congestion, and a large number of pedestrians and vehicles on the shoulders of the roadway.

- Motorists are advised to take alternate routes.
- NDHP will have traffic information/control points where traffic will be stopped at two locations:
  - The intersection of ND Highway 1806 and Morton County Road 138A, approximately six miles south of Mandan. This is a traffic control point where only local traffic and emergency response vehicles will be allowed.
  - The intersection of ND Highway 6 and Morton County Road 138A, about six miles south of Mandan. This is an information point where additional traffic information will be provided to motorists.
